

Published on RARS, Ambalavayal (<http://rarsamb.kau.in>)

Home > Looking Forward

---

The RARS is well- poised and waiting on its wings to develop as a Knowledge Centre for Agriculture in the High range region. Intensive research programmes will be taken up in black pepper, ginger, sub-tropical fruits, scented rice and ornamental plants. Model units for precision farming, high-density orchard and cut flower production will be established soon. RARS, Ambalavayal has all the potential and natural conditions to set up a horticultural college with advanced laboratory facilities and infrastructure for hi-tech farming to cater the needs of farming and research community of the region and the country.

---